A close-up photograph of a large, vibrant red rose. A small, bright green tree frog is nestled within the folds of the rose's petals, its body perfectly camouflaged against the deep red background. The frog's skin has a slightly bumpy texture, and its eyes are closed. The rose's petals are layered and ruffled, creating a complex, organic shape. The background is a solid, deep black, which makes the red of the rose and the green of the frog stand out sharply.

From our judge, Rhonda Thwaite

I found the time judging the photographic competition uplifting, engaging and very enjoyable.

So many insights into the lives of others and their perceptions of their world.

The balance of often endearing subjects with artistic flair, and so many diverse interpretations.

Thankyou so much for the invitation to judge.

And a big thank you to Rhonda for her time and expertise
